

Transient Presence

Using mosaic-like imagery made of pieces of drawings and photographs coalesced on discarded materials, this wall installation portrays moments from city life. With meticulous attention to texture and detail, it captures the transient and ephemeral nature of urban experiences, while its incisive methodology reflects resilience.